

The GPP Foundation

Min. Paul Martin, Visionary
4074 Emerald Lake Dr.
Decatur, Ga. 30035
gppfound@yahoo.com

404 839 – 4383
404 284 - 0589
gppfound.com
501c3non-profit

September 30, 2016

This is Min. Paul Martin

I am writing you because our foundation is on a mission to change lives. We're asking for your support. We have designed a program called "Rebuilding a Community and a Church". We named it The Mechanicsville project. The purpose is to help the disenfranchised, the fallen in our society who are about to give up. Surely we remember those times when nothing in our lives was going our way. Who was it that helped you keep going?

Today's society still has those same obstacles and challenges, but due to progress and a more modern society that comes along with the times the challenge has gotten higher, double riskier, double for our youth. As we started putting this training aid together we saw the need to reinforce a reminder for some and give a reality check for others that our past proves us as a people who are over-comers, ordained for greatness.

Tour

We are seeking to take 75-80 people on a history tour to Savannah, Ga. for 3-4 days. We plan to see the Civil Rights Museum, slave burial grounds, Laurel Grove (the community where many black slaves were buried), the African-American Families Monument culinary tour of Savannah, the First African Baptist Church, the Underground Railroad the auction block, and much more.

Tour meeting

After we have visited those many places, we will discuss what all we've seen. What our ancestors went through and how they survived as slaves, we will stand on the path that many walked, dragged and was carried from the ships that brought them here. The auction block where families were torn apart separated and sold off never to see each other again. The abusive and deplorable living conditions they were forced to live through, the brutal beatings and the hangings. These were sacrifices that were made just to survive another day. We will explore the inner message that needs to be discussed.

The Goal

On the last night we will discuss the purpose of this tour, all that we've seen and how it made us feel. Then we will have speakers that will close the event out, we will point to the privilege and the obligation we all have to honor our ancestors, pointing to the countless sacrifices, how they plotted, planed and died for a chance of freedom. Yes, we owe a debt that we can't ever repay, certainly not in anger or hatred. But in overcoming the struggle and getting up. The speakers will discuss how we all fall, but we can get back up. They will give their testimonies of their fall and how they got up. Then we can set the tone to motivate and encourage all why this project and tour is so important. The life journey we must take going forwards is not about anger, hate or revenge, but about education, knowledge independence, respect, character, honor, pride and economics. We submit to those who will listen: the debit we owe is to live, love and prosper, to tell the story and most of all never forget who you are.

We are asking for your support to start the History Tour Discovering Who U. R March 7 the Mechanicsville project on march 14 2017. This means we need to go to work, so please tell you friends about what we are doing, maybe you like to come with us.

Support this tour through:

#1- sponsorships

#2- Support this mission.

#3- Join us on this tour.

#4- Bring your family.

#5- Sponsor a youth, or an event,

#6-a bus,

#7-a speaker,

#8-make a donation, etc.

We thank you for joining with us as we seek to make an impact in our society and people lives. Contact info above

Sincerely,

Min. Paul Martin

The GPP Foundation

Min. Paul Martin, Visionary
Emerald Lake Dr.
Decatur, Ga. 30035
gppfound@yahoo.com

404 839 – 4383
404 284 - 0589
gppfound.com
501c3non-profit

4074

September 30, 2016

This is Min. Paul Martin

I am writing you because our foundation is on a mission to change lives. We're asking for your support.

We have designed a program called "Rebuilding a Community and a Church". We named it The Mechanicsville project. The purpose is to help the disenfranchised, the fallen in our society who are about to give up. Surely we remember those times when nothing in our lives was going our way. Who was it that helped you keep going?

Today's society still has those same obstacles and challenges, but due to progress and a more modern society that comes along with the times the challenge has gotten higher, double riskier, double for our youth. As we started putting this training aid together we saw the need to reinforce a reminder for some and give a reality check for others that our past proves us as a people who are over-comers, ordained for greatness.

Tour

We are seeking to take 75-80 people on a history tour to Savannah, Ga. for 3-4 days. We plan to see the Civil Rights Museum, slave burial grounds, Laurel Grove (the community where many black slaves were buried), the African-American Families Monument culinary tour of Savannah, the First African Baptist Church, the Underground Railroad the auction block, and much more.

Tour meeting

After we have visited those many places, we will discuss what all we've seen. What our ancestors went through and how they survived as slaves, we will stand on the path that many walked, dragged and was carried from the ships that brought them here. The auction block where families were torn apart separated and sold off never to see each other again. The abusive and deplorable living conditions they were forced to live through, the brutal beatings and the hangings. These were sacrifices that were made just to survive another day. We will explore the inner message that needs to be discussed.

The Goal

On the last night we will discuss the purpose of this tour, all that we've seen and how it made us feel. Then we will have speakers that will close the event out, we will point to the privilege and the obligation we all have to honor our ancestors, pointing to the countless sacrifices, how they plotted, planed and died for a chance of freedom. Yes, we owe a debt that we can't ever repay, certainly not in anger or hatred. But in overcoming the struggle and getting up. The speakers will discuss how we all fall, but we can get back up. They will give their testimonies of their fall and how they got up. Then we can set the tone to motivate and encourage all why this project and tour is so important. The life journey we must take going forwards is not about anger, hate or revenge, but about education, knowledge independence, respect, character, honor, pride and economics. We submit to those who will listen: the debit we owe is to live, love and prosper, to tell the story and most of all never forget who you are.

We are asking for your support to start the History Tour Discovering Who U. R March 7 the Mechanicsville project on march 14 2017. This means we need to go to work, so please tell you friends about what we are doing, maybe you like to come with us.

Support this tour through:

#1- sponsorships

#2- Support this mission.

#3- Join us on this tour.

#4- Bring your family.

#5- Sponsor a youth, or an event,

#6-a bus,

#7-a speaker,

#8-make a donation, etc.

We thank you for joining with us as we seek to make an impact in our society and people lives. Contact info above

Sincerely,

Min. Paul Martin

Give a man a fish he eats that day, but teach that man to fish and he eats for a lifetime!